Tom Tucker - PRESIDENT

I have been involved with the Glen of Imaal Terrier since 2000 and love the breed. I have been and am involved in conformation, agility and earth dog. I plan to add more venues in the future with these versatile dogs. I am a member of the Lakeland-Winter Haven Kennel club here in central FL. I have been on the Board of Directors of Lake-Land-Winter Haven KC for several years and have been VP for multiple terms. I am now the Club President. I have been our assistant show chairman as well as our show chairman and have been active in many of our club events.

Maggie Weidinger - CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

We live with 2 Rainbow Springs' Glens – Lizzie and Declan, and have a new addition Liam, an Irish Wolfhound puppy from Castlemaine Kennel. I have been involved with the Lancaster County Humane League Board of Directors, serving as Treasurer , Vice -President and President. During my presidency, the Humane League participated in its first raids of Lancaster County puppy mills. We've also been active in Bernese Mountain Dog rescue, adopting Sophie after the Mount Joy Puppy Mill raid, Gus from a rescue in Maryland and a Golden Retriever, Ginger, from Delaware Valley GR Rescue, and "Pound Puppy" Arlo.

Louise Lopez - RECORDING SECRETARY

Both my husband and I have had dogs in our family from our childhood. As adults, we've owned a variety of breeds and have owned Glens for going on 7 years now. We currently own two Glens: Tula and Sullivan. Tula is a Broc Rua breeding and Sullivan is Tula's son.

I've been a member of GITCA since Tula was a puppy. I've served on the GITCA Board for the past 2 years. I am currently the Supported Entry Chair, Performance Committee Chair and am on the Chronicles staff. I also process the Contact List applications as well as being a Contact List volunteer.

Mary-Ann Hirschauer - TREASURER

I have experience breeding, showing and training Glens, Japanese Chins and Beagles. This is my second term as GITCA Treasurer and I have been editor of the Glen Chronicles since 2011. I have also been a Member at Large of the Clermont County Dog Training Club for 10 years.

Marty Bates - BOARD MEMBER

I've been in the sport of dogs since the early 1970's. Rottweilers were my first breed. Ms Scruffie came home in 2000 the year I joined GITCA. Since then I've served on the Board as a director, Recording Secretary, and President 2008-09. I chaired the National Specialty once. I've worked on the Chronicles on and off since 2003. I over saw the changeover of our web site when President in 2009 and have been the Web Co-ordinator since. I am the Publications Committee Chair.

Jane Fenton - BOARD MEMBER

I have been involved in Glen of Imaal Terriers since 2008. My Glen, Monroe and I enjoy obedience, agility, earthdog and look forward to pursuing barn hunt. I grew up with a Wire Hair Fox Terrier. I'm a member of the Suffolk County Obedience Training Club. I've been active in GITCA and have attended every General Membership Meeting since 2009. My other club activities include being a member of the Membership Committee, volunteering on the club's Contact List, and contributing frequently to the Glen Chronicles. I can most often be found behind the camera documenting the beautiful entry at the shows on our National Specialty weekend.

Michael Greene - BOARD MEMBER

I have had my first Glen, Emma, since 2007. Emma is a 6 ½ year old wheaten, female, Grand Champion, who was invited and showed at Westminster in 2012, also invited and showed at AKC-Eukanuba National Championship in 2011 and 2012. My second Glen, Jameson came in 2008. Jameson is a 5 1/2 year old blue brindle, male, Grand Champion.

Gary Herman - BOARD MEMBER

After discharge from the US Air Force in 2000, I relocated to Fredericksburg, VA, where I continue to reside today. Shortly thereafter to satisfy my desire to have a four-legged roommate, I began researching dog types, and breeds. It was about this time that I first discovered the Glen of Imaal Terrier.

For the next few years, I began learning all I could about the Glen, and in 2006 was able to welcome a Glen of Imaal Terrier (Cuchulainn) into my home and family. Took him to Puppy Training Class, and when he was about 18 months old, I began taking him to Agility Classes. I joined the local Kennel Club, Greater Fredericksburg Kennel Club and began volunteering for Club activities, trials, and shows. I began instructing the Club's Beginner's Agility Class. In 2010, the club asked me to Chair the Annual Agility Trial and I have been The Agility Trial Chair for the club, since (2010-2013). In 2011, I welcomed a second Glen of Imaal Terrier, Caelin, from Peg Carty's Rainbow Springs Kennel and encouraged by her, I began showing Caelin in the conformation ring. I joined GITCA in 2012.

Dog experience - Glens (1 for 4 years, 2 for 3 years), other breeds: Irish Setter, Boxer, Blue Merle Rough Collie, Siberian Husky, & involved with AKC Companion Activities: Agility, Conformation, Rally, Obedience, Earth Dog.

VICE PRESIDENT - Vacant

An announcement will be made as soon as the position is filled at a special meeting of the Board.

GROUND BREAKING GLENS - TRACKING by Louise Lopez

IF you are lucky enough to count a Glen as a family member, the possibility for new and interesting activities and challenges is endless. Some Glens and their owners have truly excelled in their chosen endeavors. This is the first in a proposed series of articles about Glens who have been the first in their fields.

When you think of an activity like tracking, generally the first canine image that comes to mind is a bloodhound or a beagle. While scent hounds were certainly bred with a specific purpose in mind, any dog's nose is far superior to that of a human's. Figures vary, but the conservative estimate seems to be that the average dog's sense of smell is approximately 10,000 times more acute than the average human's. As an analogy to help relate this, if we were talking about the sense of sight and you could see something 1/3 of a mile away, your dog could see just as clearly 3,000 miles away! This natural ability makes tracking a great choice for almost any dog. To add to the mix, tracking is also one of those "shoe is on the other foot" sports. Instead of the dog responding to the handler's commands as in obedience or agility, the dog is now in charge. He will be telling you where to go by finding and following the scent. The phrase most frequently heard by those who participate in tracking or nosework is "Trust your dog!"

About 2009, Kathy Georgiana began tracking with her dog, Ch Briarhill Mountain Music TD (Chewie). She was encouraged by the dedicated tracking group in her local all-breed organization, the Pioneer Valley Kennel Club. In her group, both members and non-members may participate. Kathy took classes but mainly worked with the group. Generally speaking, in practices, one person will lay a track for another person's dog and vice versa. Since the track needs to age and there are multiple dogs participating, this is usually an all morning activity, with lots of walking and time for socializing as a result. Kathy practiced like this for about a year, spring and fall, before she was ready to trial.

Before you can enter an AKC Tracking Trial, your dog must be certified by an AKC Tracking Judge or Provisional Judge as having the requisite skills to compete. This certification is submitted along with the application for the trial. A dog is only required to pass the tracking test once to earn his title. In order to pass, the dog must successfully follow a track that is 400-500 yards long (the length of approx. 3 ½-4 football fields) with 3 to 5 turns (changes of direction) in it. The track is aged between 30 minutes and 2 hours. There is a flag to mark the beginning of the track and one 30 feet out to indicate the direction of the first leg of the track, but no other markers. At the end of the track the dog must locate and indicate either a glove or wallet associated with the track layer.

Different dogs have different styles when they track. Kathy notes that the bird dogs she's seen seem to move their heads from side to side while going full speed ahead as if looking for a bird on the ground. Other dogs will plod slowly and steadily along. Chewie is a careful tracker. Once he's located the track, his head goes down and his tail comes up. When he comes to a corner his head goes up and he looks around until he's caught the scent and off he goes again. Once he finds the article (glove/wallet, etc.) he lays down on it, so there's no mistaking his indication.

On October 31, 2010, Kathy and Chewie were ready to go. Chewie started off as he normally does, head down, tail up, on his job. Suddenly, he came to a part of the track and started behaving as he never had before. He began jumping, rolling, and twisting—in general, going bananas. After a bit, he calmed down and went back to work. To a huge round of applause from the gallery, he found the glove and passed his test. Afterwards, the track layer came up to Kathy and showed her that she had cut her knee. While setting the track, she had fallen exactly where Chewie had indicated!

Chewie is retired now, but Kathy still tracks with another Glen, UKC CH Briarhill Royal Wizard (Owen). Three and a half years later, Chewie is still one of only two Glens who have earned an AKC Tracking Dog title. Tracking definitely requires a commitment of time and energy, but the rewards of learning to 'trust your dog' are infinite! Way to Go Kathy!

Chewie is one of only two Glens who have earned an AKC Tracking Dog title.

PREMATURE CLOSING OF THE ULNA

Article and pictures By Mary McDaniel DVM

Premature Closure of the Distal Ulna or PCDU has been a hot topic of discussion recently on social media outlets. There is some debate about the causes and treatment of the disorder, but there can be no doubt that it affects the Glen of Imaal Terrier at a rate that far exceeds chance. The extreme bowing of the radius occurs when the growth plate of the ulna is damaged, causing it to stop growing. Although the bones do not appear to be attached on the radiograph, heavy connective tissue joins the two. When the radius continues to grow, it is bent around the short ulna, much like a bow is rounded out by a string.

Normal Glen Leg Normal leg PCDU

In this case, elbow dysplasia occurs because the proximal aspects (portion closest to the body) of the radius and ulna do not align. The joint becomes unstable leading to arthritis.

The causes of Premature Closure of the Distal Ulna are generally trauma or injury, however it is known to be hereditary in Skye Terriers - a cousin of the Glen. There is a higher than normal incidence of PCDU in other chondrodysplastic or dwarf breeds, such as Bassets, Corgis and Dachshunds.

Affected dogs generally present with forelimb lameness between 3 and 5 months of age. There may not be any radiographical changes on the first exam. However, within two weeks of an injury changes will become visible. For this reason, it is always a good idea to have your veterinarian radiograph your dog's legs and do follow-up radiographs if front limb lameness occurs.

Surgery is often required to prevent severe elbow dysplasia and arthritis. If caught early, surgery may consist of removing a portion of the ulna so that the radius can grow. However, if the growth plates of the radius and ulna have already closed, surgery can be much more complicated and involve pins, plates and external orthopedic devices. It is important to catch this disease early!

Preventing Premature Closure of the Distal Ulna due to injury can be prevented. The Ulnar Growth Plate doesn't close until about 10 months of age! Until then -no jumping on and off furniture or racing up and down steps. No forced activity – such as long hikes. No unsupervised rough play with children or larger dogs. Protect your Glen's legs in the first year of life so that they may carry him without pain for many more.

Is PCDU hereditary in Glens? I don't think anyone really knows at this time. Glens have abnormal growth plates by virtue of them being a dwarf breed. It does, however, appear that some lines have a higher incidence than others when pedigrees are researched. But that may be due to their exaggerated 'normal' turnout or rate of growth. 5% of the Glens reported in the GITCA Health Survey have been affected by PCDU, and there are probably many others whose owners do not recognize the disease in their dogs.

Our Standard calls for a 'slight turnout' at the pasterns. Selecting sires and dams with that picture in mind might help to eliminate some cases of PCDU. Having an open dialogue about this disease may also help us identify a pattern. It is important that puppy buyers be given strict instructions about raising their Glens, and know what to do if their puppy becomes lame. Ignoring PCDU does not make it go away.

The GITCA/OFA Health Survey has had over 275 responses to date. The data gathered will be used to focus attention on health issues affecting Glens. We need YOUR help to make this work. If you haven't already taken the survey, please do. Urge puppy buyers new and old to respond. It only takes 5 minutes of your time, is completely confidential, and the dog you help may be your own!http://www.offa.org/surveys/survey_glen.html

SOME FUN FACTS ABOUT ST. PATRICK

Corned beef and cabbage isn't an Irish traditional dish.

A dish of corned beef and cabbage, while delicious, is of American origin rather than Irish. Early Irish-Americans were poor, beef was a cheaper alternative, and cabbage happened to be a springtime vegetable. The traditional Irish meal, usually referred to as "boiled bacon and cabbage," uses back bacon, similar to ham or Canadian bacon.

The real St. Patrick wasn't Irish

Contrary to everything your intuition has taught you, St. Patrick was actually English. He was born in Britain around 350 A.D. and probably lived in Wales.

LETTER FROM PRESIDENT TOM TUCKER

Hello, I hope our northern friends have thawed out! It seems to have been a particularly hard winter for many. We have started a new year with a new Board. We are very fortunate to have three members from the previous Board still with us: Mary-Ann Hirschauer, our Treasurer, Louise Lopez, our Recording Secretary, and Marty Bates, a Board Member. These people, who also serve on other committees, have been and will continue to be great assets to the new Board. We had our first Board meeting with an over-full agenda and we made progress on most items. Some agenda topics had to be continued and we will work on them between meetings. I hope everyone is utilizing the club's web site, www.glens.org. There is a lot of information there and the "Members Only" section can help you keep up with what is going on with the club. (editor note: for help in signing up at Members only contact Marty Bates glenbride@aol.com)

I'm asking everyone to take time to reread the club's Constitution and Bylaws and Code of Ethics. (editor note: they are online at glens.org). These are the tools we use to keep us focused on club business.

Two goals I have for our club are to make our Annual General Meeting (AGM) something all members would want to attend more than once and to increase attendance at our annual awards Banquet. I hope we can build on the hard work of past Boards to continue to promote and protect this breed we all love.

My goal is to have an informative and pleasant annual general meeting that encourages members to be active in the Club. The AGM is a chance for all members to have input and interact with the Board through their agenda items. Also, keep in mind that the AGM is not the only way to communicate with the Board and if something comes up during the year, or if you would like the Board to address anything, the best way to do that is to write to us directly with your concern at gitcacs@glens.org.

The Banquet is held on a separate night and is a time for us to socialize and enjoy ourselves and share stories about our dogs and their adventures. It's a time to meet other Glen owners from around the country, make new friends and catch up with old ones. A lot of work goes into the planning and execution of the banquet and it is more than just eating and talking. We have the Glen Emporium and our Silent Auction featuring unique breed-related items from throughout the world. Members put a lot of effort into finding these items and their sale serves as the only general annual fundraiser for the club. Year-End and Lifetime awards are also presented. This year we are looking the possibility of changing the location and menu to make this event more appealing. This should be a great time for everyone to unwind and enjoy the company of their fellow Glen-lovers. I hope more people will attend this event.

ALL YOU EVER WANTED TO KNOW ABOUT... SUPPORTED ENTRIES

By Louise Lopez

A few years back when I was asked to take over the GITCA Supported Entries, I have to admit, I didn't really have a clear picture of just what "Supported Entry" meant. Since not all Glen owners are avid dog show aficionados, it's possible that other Chronicle readers are in the same boat. The purpose of this article is to provide a brief explanation as well as to discuss in depth what Supported Entries mean specifically for our breed.

When a club such as GITCA chooses to "support an entry" it is trying to encourage increased attendance at a specific dog show. It does this by providing prizes in addition to the ribbons normally given by the host club. Information that our club is "supporting" an entry as well as a description of the prizes is then published in the host club's premium list. This benefits the host club in the potential revenue generated by increased attendance. It benefits GITCA members because, with increased attendance, comes the possibility of building a "major" entry as well as a larger number of points, both required for a dog's championship or grand championship.

GITCA's primary Supported Entries represent geographical areas: Northeast, Mid-Atlantic, South, Mid-West and West. We also support a couple of shows which are likely to have larger than normal attendance. We have supported Eukanuba (currently held in Florida) as well as Hatboro (held the week of the Montgomery cluster) for the past several years. In 2015, we will be supporting Morris and Essex, also during Montgomery week. Finally, we support a couple of performance venues: The National Earthdog Test and, in 2013, we supported the Eukanuba Invitational Agility Competition for the first time.

GITCA's primary Supported Entries represent geographical areas: Northeast, Mid-Atlantic, South, Mid-West and West.

The GITCA Board determines where the supported entries will be held, based on input from the membership and those likely to participate in such a show, including non-members. Some locations are pretty constant: Columbia Terrier has been the club's Mid-Atlantic Supported Entry for many years. Again, based on input from participants, locations can be changed. We looked into the possibility of moving the Mid-West SE last year, but it turned out the majority of those likely to participate preferred to stick with our current location: Michigan Terrier's Fall Show.

This year we had an invitation from the Ladies Kennel Club in Massachusetts to hold our Northeast SE there. We wanted to reach out to folks who might be interested, but our time was limited due to the date the premium list needed to be submitted. For the first time, in addition to sending out a message via GITCA email, we also employed social media, posting on a couple of the more popular Glen Facebook pages. The response was quite encouraging. We heard back from several interested parties and people were clearly enthusiastic about trying out this location. Based on the input received, the Board quickly approved it.

Going forward, we hope to continue to receive input from our membership and other Glen owners about where our Supported Entries are held. We are definitely open to suggestions and we review attendance in the SE's to make sure they are doing what we want them to do, i.e., encouraging increased participation. Occasionally, SE's just don't work out. An example of this is in the West where currently there are very few Glens being actively shown. Since the numbers are so low, a supported entry is not justified in 2014. We hope this will change in the near future.

Supported Entries

A final and important note: Remember the club-provided prizes mentioned all the way back in the second paragraph? Our current prizes for the regional SE's are for Best of Breed, Best Opposite Sex, Winners Dog and Winners Bitch. They are ceramics made by Furrytale Studios and they are gorgeous. Those SE awards cost a total of $100 per show, or $25 per memento. GITCA needs assistance in underwriting these costs. Currently, the cost of the mementos offered at the National Specialty are almost entirely donated by individual members. We need to do the same with supported entries. To date, we have received donations to cover all the mementos for Columbia Terrier (Rick and Wanda Roland), Ladies KC of Massachusetts as well as Hatboro (Ber-D-Mar and Rainbow Springs). At this time, we still need to find sponsors for Michigan Terrier and for the supported entry in the South (location to be determined). If you are interested in sponsoring one or more of these mementos, please contact Maggie Weidinger at gitcacs@glens.org.

For information concerning upcoming SE's please go to the club website www.glens.org.

For any feedback concerning GITCA Supported Entries, please contact Louise Lopez at loulo27@yahoo.com

CALLING ALL GLEN LOVING NEEDLE WORKERS!

Plans are underway for a GITCA 10th Anniversary quilt to be donated for raffle at our 2014 National Specialty Annual Banquet in October. Last year the quilt raffle raised over $800 for the Trophy fund.

The theme, of course, will once again be Glens, and needless to say, the finished product will be a must-have for any Glen loving home.

If you are handy with a needle, either in quilting or embroidery, and would like to join in the fun, contact Jane Fenton at longislandglen@gmail.com right away. We would love to have you!

GLEN HEALTH SURVEY ONLINE

Please consider filling out the Health survey specific for Glens at http://www.offa.org/surveys/survey_glen.html The information is strictly confidential (no names or e-mail addresses are recorded) and you will be able to view cumulative results as soon as you finish the survey. The information will help us identify any 'quiet' problems in our breed and help determine where health research money should be spent. This is open to all American and International Glen owners! Please participate!

SOME,MORE FUN FACTS ABOUT ST. PATRICK

The official color of St. Patrick is actually blue.

Several artworks of St. Patrick show him wearing blue vestments. Blue was also commonly used on flags and coats-of-arms to represent Ireland. Green appeared much later, probably as a symbol of the greenness of the "Emerald Isle".

Contact List

Glens.org routinely receives inquiries not only about how to acquire a Glen puppy, but also simply how to meet a Glen in person. Many of us experienced some difficulty when we first decided we were interested in knowing more about Glens. With the idea of making our wonderful breed a little bit more accessible to the interested public, the Board announces that the CONTACT LIST is now online at www.glens.org. The public can get to the Contact List by Clicking on "Finding A Glen." The purpose of the Contact List is to provide an initial point of contact between a person interested in the breed and a GITCA member.

Members who want to be a Contact can apply by going to the Members Only section of www.glens.org and filling out the application. Applicants for the list will need to have a minimum of 3 years in the breed and at least 2 years membership in GITCA. Send the completed application on to Louise Lopez at loulo27@yahoo.com Since this list is only intended to provide initial contact for those wishing to meet a Glen and not as a Breeder Referral, breeders may not participate in the Contact List.
